Programme maker seeks audience funding for internet sit com

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION!

By Charles Thomson

basildon@yellowad.co.uk

A BUDDING sitcom writer wants Essex residents to help him create an antidote to TOWIE.

Chris Windle, 29, from Leigh, has launched a crowd-funding appeal to shoot a second episode of his internet sitcom Scumbags.

The writer described his show as 'the complete antichrist to TOWIE', depicting realistic characters, rather than the 'fantasy world' of the glamorous ITV2 'reality' show.

Chris decided to involve residents after Scumbags clocked up almost 4,000 views on YouTube.

Set in Basildon, it follows unemployed Danny – played by Chris – and his friends Deano and JJ as desperation drives them into a life of crime. The first episode sees them stage a bungled robbery.

Chris said: "I want it to be the antichrist to TOWIE, which is very much a fantasy world of the nouveau riche in Essex. I absolutely hate TOWIE. I'm sure there are plenty of people who hate Scumbags as well, but Scumbags is more real. It's not pretentious.

"You watch TOWIE and it makes you feel inferior; that you're not good-looking enough, you don't have enough money, you don't have a big enough car. Scumbags makes you feel, 'Yea, I'm not bad off'."

Chris conceived the show five years ago and spent four-and-a-half months working on the script for the pilot last year. He shot it in three weekends this year with £600 from his savings.

He said some viewers had mistakenly believed he was inferring all Basildon residents were scumbags, but insisted that was not the case.

School makes a speedy recovery after Ofsted report

LEIGH North Street Junior School has been judged good by Ofsted inspectors just 14 months after it received an inadequate rating.

The improvement is rare nationally and has been revealed in an Ofsted inspection report released on Thursday, September 11.

The report praises the interim executive board (IEB), that was installed by the council following the inadequate verdict in June 2013.

It also commends the work of the executive headteacher and staff saying the governance is outstanding.

Pupil achievements at the school in North Street, Leigh, has also significantly improved.

Other findings in the report include a good quality of teaching and new staff have bought more expertise to the school.

Inspectors also wrote the executive headteacher Pauline Lucas, has worked tirelessly to improve the quality of education with great success.

The installation of the IEB was praised as being a highly successful strategy pushing forward improvements at the school.

Executive headteacher, Pauline Lucas said she was delighted with the report.

She said: "It is great for all staff, pupils, parents and governors, all of whom have played a vital part in this remarkable journey."

"We are a tight knit community and this means a great deal to everyone, so I would say a big thank you and well done to all those who have made it possible.

"The report is very positive but we will also be looking at any areas of improvement identified to get better."

Councillor for children and learning, Anne Jones said the glowing report reflected the excellent work done by all at the school.

She said: "It should not be underestimated how difficult it is to go up just one rating in a year, so to go up two is remarkable."

"I am pleased that the report reflects how well the school leadership and governors works with the local authority and I am intent on making sure these types of strong partnership continue."

Estate 'regeneration' planned

PLANS to regenerate the Queensway estate and surrounding areas were released last Tuesday at a cabinet meeting.

The plans are the first step of a project that will aim to improve the environment and housing in the Queensway area and sets out a number of objectives for the project.

Some of the main priorities in the report include improving the housing and surrounding environments for tenants and leaseholders.

Housing would also be improved either through refurbishment or development with a focus on working with owners of properties in Southchurch Road to see what can be improved.

Improvements to links to the town centre will also be looked at especially in the deprived Coleman Street area.

An attempt to enhance the community facilities in the area are also included in the plans.

Executive councillor for adult social care, health and housing, David Norman, said the project was absolutely vital and had the potential to transform that specific part of Southend.

Mr Norman said: "This will improve the quality of life for a vast number of our tenants and leaseholders."

"Whatever options come forward in the future they will all be focused on improving the housing and general environment of the Queensway area, which can only be a good thing."

"I have pledged that all residents will be fully consulted on any proposals coming forward that affect their homes and in fact we want to work closely together with the local community to make sure that they are involved as the regeneration proposals develop."

"Although this is a long-term and complex project and things will not happen overnight, we do hope to see some works start in 2015."

Silver award at Anglia in Bloom

WELL nurtured flower beds and open spaces in Southend have won a silver award in the Anglia in Bloom award.

To achieve the award, Southend captivated judges with a selection of vivid vegetation throughout the borough.

The two judges started their official visit at Belfairs Park, in Leigh, which impressed them, and they continued to praise the management of open spaces at Chalkwell Park, Marine Parade and Priory Park.

They were also delighted with community ventures such as South East Essex Women's Environmental Network Allotment, in Manchester Drive, Leigh and the Trustlinks Growing Together Project, in Fairfax Drive.

Their tour also included Prittle Brook Greenway with its wooden carvings and they enjoyed the plants at Adventure Island.

Councillor for enterprise, tourism and economic development, Graham Longley, said the award was down to the hard work of people across the community.

Mr Longley said: "It is a real team effort from individuals, community groups, and companies in the town, as well as the council's own parks team which continues to develop breathtaking floral displays in our parks and gardens."

"Congratulations to everyone who has contributed to this success."

"We hope it will inspire even more people to get involved in future and do their bit to help keep Southend blooming."

Review after police strip search boy, 16

ESSEX Police is being investigated by the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) after a 16-year-old boy was strip searched in the back of an unmarked police van.

The teenager was stopped by officers in Beach Road, Southend, at 3pm, on Sunday, August 17.

He was detained and taken to the unmarked police van in a car park off Beach Road where he was strip searched.

The IPCC is now investigating the incident following a complaint to Essex Police from the boy and want to find witnesses to the incident.

The boy was African-Caribbean, 5ft 10in with short black hair.

He was wearing blue jeans, a white T-shirt and a dark coloured jumper.

Essex Police referred the matter to the IPCC on Tuesday, September 2.

IPCC commissioner Mary Cunneen said: "Our investigation is examining the contact between the police and the boy, including the officers' use of force during the search and the allegation that no appropriate adult was present during the strip search."

"We are at an early stage in our investigation, and need to speak to anyone who saw this boy being stopped and detained by police in Beach Road."

FUNDRAISER: Joyce Long

Pensioner holds mammoth sale

FUNDRAISING champion Joyce Long is dubbing her latest mammoth garden sale 'her birthday sale'.

The amazing pensioner who has raised more than £1.5m for Southend Hospital – will be 85 two weeks after the sale.

She was awarded an MBE for her sterling charity work.

She will be turning her Thundersley garden into a bazaar full of interesting things to tempt buyers from all over the county.

"I have been holding these sales twice a year for such a long time now, people come to me with all sorts of items to sell.

"This time I think the things that stand out are a mother-of-pearl accordion and a telescope. Of course, I have loads of other goods from tea sets to saucepans, clothes to books and DVDs to ornaments.

"They are all here in the garden," Joyce said.

She usually rakes in around

£3,000 from her sales and this time will put the proceeds towards the latest keyhole cancer treatment at Southend Hospital.

"As usual we are hoping for good weather. I have covers ready to pull over the 'stock' if it does rain," she added.

Joyce's sales runs from Monday, September 29, to Saturday, October 4, at 22 Park Road, Thundersley. Any saleable items for donation are welcome.

'Behind every great man there's a good woman'

Oliver-nominated actress Linzi Hateley tells LIZ WADE about her role as the wife of legendary American showman PT Barnum in a touring production of hit West End musical Barnum which is coming to the Cliffs Pavilion for a limited run AWARD-winning actress Linzi Hateley admits it is great to be back on stage with Brian Conley during the national tour of Barnum and is looking forward to being in Southend next week.

The actress, who has starred on Broadway and in the West End, plays Conley's on stage wife in Cameron Mackintosh and Chichester Festival Theatre's smash hit production of the musical, which opened at Leicester's Curve Theatre on September 5.

The production, which tours the country until August next year, apart from a break over Christmas while Conley appears in pantomime, includes a run at Southend's Cliffs Pavilion from Tuesday until Saturday, October 4.

Hateley, who was nominated for an Olivier Award for her performance as The Narrator in Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, and boasts West End credits such as Donna in Mamma Mia!, Roxie in Chicago, Rizzo in Grease and Eponine in Les Misérables, said: "It's been an intensive and exciting time getting the show on the road.

"It's based on truth, all about PT Barnum, who kind of had lots of energy and wonderful ideas, and wanted to try a lot of things out.

"He humbugged people into believing stuff that isn't really true.

"A lot of it is that he sees everything in colour but it is very much his wife who steers him in the right direction.

"It's like they say, behind every great man there's a good woman.

"The essence of the musical is that it's a love story."

She says that "it's great" to be appearing with Conley again.

"We worked together years ago on a children's variety performance. He's fantastic, and very generous as a performer. There hasn't been a review that doesn't mention our chemistry.

"We spent four weeks in rehearsals, four days to get it up on to its feet into the theatre. We're all a little bit tired.

"We've had a standing ovation every night. I knew it was a good show.

"There's lots of elements to make it a crowd-pleaser but when changes are made you never know how audiences are going to like it. It really has had an encouraging response."

While she is theatre regular, this is her first time on the road and she was unsure. But a pep talk from her 15-year-old daughter gave her all the encouragement she needed.

Hateley said: "I spent so many years performing to tourists it's now a wonderful opportunity to perform in front of people from across the country.

"It will be nice to play in my home town in Birmingham, but it's also a nice opportunity to see places I have never been to including Southend."

Cash back for rail users hit by delays

TRAIN operator c2c is offering cash to passengers as an apology for delays caused on the line last week.

All monthly and annual season ticket holders will be able to claim a day's fare in cash after repeated signal failures caused delays.

Passengers with daily and weekly tickets automatically qualify for a refund too.

To recover money commuters need to register online for a personalised letter with details of how much they will receive.

The can then exchange this letter for their money at any c2c ticket office.

Managing director of c2c Julian Drury said services fell well below standard and the rail company was sorry for unacceptable delays.

He added: "While we can't give people their time back from these frustrating delays, we can offer them cash instead. I hope this helps show our customers how sorry we are."

● Passengers can register up until October 14 to claim their money at <http://www.c2c-online.co.uk/customer-care/refunds.cash-back>.

MURAL: Local artist Jack Melville with his work at the entrance to the Dr Feelgood exhibition

Seeking Dr Feelgood anecdotes

THE hunt is on for people to come forward and share their experiences of going to Dr Feelgood gigs before the opening of a café dedicated to the band.

Dr Feelgood are widely considered to be one of the best live bands to emerge from the Essex pub rock scene during the mid to late seventies.

The band went from local gigs in Canvey Island to international tours heading towards a number one UK album 'Stupidity'.

This Friday will see the opening of the café in Chalkwell Hall and feature a huge collection of tour posters, photographs, press cuttings, letters and artefacts from 1971 on.

Some of the most precious pieces are Lee Brilleaux's waistcoat and harmonica, original paintings by Brilleaux and Wilko Johnson.

It also features the original Dr Feelgood touring PA amplifier.

Now curator of the exhibition wants people to come forward to give first hand accounts of their experiences at gigs.

Chris Fenwick, who managed the band for 40 years and has spent two years pulling the exhibition together said he was proud of the amount of pieces people could see. He said: "The exhibition shows the roller coaster ride of the band.

"It shows their story over 40 years. "When I started to manage them and got them a gig in Holland I never thought they would be so big.

"I never threw anything away that the band produced that's why there is so many pieces for people to look at.

"I hope people will be impressed with what I have pulled together for the exhibition."

To coincide with the exhibition, arts organisation Metal have curated a series of events with artists, musicians and film makers that explore the social history of electric guitar.

To find out more about the line up of events that will run visit <http://www.metalculture.com/projects/feelgood-cafe/>

WANTED: CCTV pictures of three women British Transport Police want to question following a fight at Prittlewell railway station

Police seek three over station fight

BRITISH Transport Police officers want to speak to these three women about a fight at Prittlewell railway station.

The women, who police believe know each other, began arguing as they waited for a London-bound train at 10.30pm, on Wednesday, July 30.

PC Kurt Bryson said two of them started fighting and one was pushed to the ground.

He added: "The third woman then joined in the fight, kicking the woman on the ground, who got up and started threatening the other two with an empty vodka bottle."

Members of the public stepped in to separate the women and the group then got on to a train heading for London Liverpool Street.

Officers met the train at the station but all three of the women had left the train.

PC Bryson said: "We believe the women sustained minor cuts and bruises during the fight, but their actions shocked and scared those who saw what happened.

"We will not accept any violence on the rail network and need to find those involved."

"I believe the women in the images we are issuing can help with our investigations."

Anyone with information about the incident is asked to contact British Transport Police on 0800 40 50 40 or text 6106, quoting reference ESub/B9 of 09/09/2014.

COMPLYING: Cllr Mike Assenheim is happy with the way the airport is working

Airport gives economy a boost

SOUTHEND councillors discussed how Southend Airport is boosting the local economy and performing well against control measures set by the local authority.

The report was presented to the Airport Monitoring Working Party, on Tuesday, September 16.

It detailed how the airport supports employment for over 1,000 workers, supports 33 companies based within the airfield and has created 42 jobs in the past year.

Councillor for regulatory services, Mike Assenheim, said the airport was growing from strength to strength.

He said: "The airport is a glowing success story with continued investment, job creation and visitor numbers improving all the time, and this report shows that."

"Nearly 1,100 people are employed, creating opportunities for local people."

The report also focused on some of the key obligations the airport has to uphold as part of the 106 agreement in the planning approval including the monitoring of the number of air traffic movements (ATMs).

Between March and February this year the total number of ATMs was 28,950 against an annual limit of 53,300, with cargo ATMs being less than 4 per cent of the annual limit.

The report also cited there were only 19 Boeing 737-300 ATMs against a limit of 2,150.

Night time flights also remained at a minimum with only 303 flights taking place against a maximum of 1,440.

The report also focused on aircraft taking off and landing from the south-west in accordance to the planning agreements.

Day time noise restrictions were also upheld by the airport.

However, there were 26 infringements of noise preferential routes with the airport issuing penalties to the operators concerned.

Mr Assenheim added: "The report also shows that the controls put in place under the planning and lease agreement are working."

"They are in place to achieve a balance between protecting residents from the environmental impacts of the airport, while delivering the significant benefits to the local economy of a revitalised airport with the associated jobs created, and I am pleased to see that we seem to be getting the balance right."

Design festive card for MP

PRIMARY schoolchildren in Hadleigh and Benfleet have been invited to design a Christmas card for MP Rebecca Harris.

Hadleigh Art Trail is also getting involved in this year's competition, and will display the finalists' work at Hadleigh Old Fire Station.

Ms Harris, MP for Castle Point, said: "I am looking forward to seeing lots of wonderful designs."

The art trail has become an annual community event popular with artists, businesses, organisations, residents and visitors, and organisers are keen for more young people to become more involved.

The work of the finalists will be on show as part of the trail, from Friday October 3 until Saturday, October 11, and visitors will be able to vote for the one they like the best.

The winner's design will be featured on Ms Harris' Christmas card.

Funding for sitcom

Chris said: "Basildon just felt right. I live in Essex and I know the Essex humour. I know a lot of people from Basildon and I knew Basildon people would be able to laugh at themselves."

"But it's merely set in Basildon. It's not meant to reflect on Basildon. Fundamentally, it's meant to represent the underclass, which exists everywhere; it's kitchen sink reality, albeit with a humorous take."

Chris said future episodes would transpose a new, TOWIE-inspired character – Candice – into the stark reality of his Scumbags universe, sparking a series of clashes with tomboy JJ.

He said: "She's a glam model figure, very dim but loveable. JJ is very informed about the world, whereas Candice lives in her own world. I certainly see some conflicts."

Backers who donate towards the second episode's £4,000 budget can claim rewards, from seeing their name in the credits to making a walk-on cameo appearance.

Chris said: "The reason for the bigger budget is because I'm going to have a bigger cast and a different production company and a director, whereas I directed the first one."

"There were areas in that episode where I had to cut corners. I acted in it, scouted locations, drove the actors around, directed it, wrote it, produced it. I want to take a lot of that off myself so I can concentrate on the acting and creative input."

LifeSkills Achieve Investors in People Gold status....AGAIN

LifeSkills have achieved the Investors in People Gold award for a second time.

A total of 169 key measures out of 175 were met to ensure the award was passed with flying colours.

The assessment focused on:

People Development

Leadership and Management

Continuous Improvement

Recognition

The inspectors commented on the family culture at the company, the excellent support that all staff are given professionally and personally, the thorough staff training development programme and how all LifeSkills employees are involved in the yearly Strategic Plan.

They were also complimentary on the rewards that are in place at the company such as private health care for all staff and dependents under 16 years of age, all staff having their birthday off work and a 2 day allowance that is given to everyone who wishes to fundraise or work within a charitable organisation every year.

Managing Director Spencer Fearn stated "it's been quite a few months for us here at LifeSkills, firstly achieving an excellent Ofsted grade and now the highest Investors in People standard possible, it is pleasing to see independent assessors pick up so many great things about our company and how everyone is valued and takes part in how we develop, it's another very proud moment for us all".

Never resting on their laurels, LifeSkills will be working towards our re-accreditation of the Matrix award towards the end of the year.

Girl recovers from broken back

CHLOE Hooper's parents feared she would never walk again after she fell 18 feet from a tree, and broke her back.

However after major surgery the brave Rayleigh youngster is on her feet again.

The 12-year-old pupil from FitzWimarc School, who was at scout camp when the accident happened, was first rushed to Southend Hospital then transferred almost immediately to the Royal National Orthopaedic Hospital (RNOH), where she was successfully treated by orthopaedic consultant and spinal surgeon, Robert Lee.

Chloe is now able to walk again – and back with her scout group.

Her father Simon, a paramedic with the London Ambulance Service, is joining his daughter and the rest of the family as charity advocates for the RNOH's redevelopment charity appeal which aims to raise £15m to fund vital additional facilities and equipment for the RNOH, which is planning a £90m redevelopment of its main site in Stanmore, Middlesex.

He said: "We are finding it difficult to find the words to thank Robert Lee and his colleagues at the RNOH. We will be forever thankful to them.

"One day she will walk down the church aisle or run in the school sports day and we're so hopeful of this because of the expert team who cared for our daughter. We never dreamed that Chloe would make a full recovery – the RNOH truly has answered all our prayers. We will do all we can help the hospital we owe so much to," he added.

Chloe has already taken part in the hospital's annual Buttercup Walk and the family is planning funding-raising event in the future.

Chloe's operation involved inserting metal screws and rods into her spine to hold her broken back together – one of her bones was removed to help reduce the pressure on her spinal cord which was causing problems in her leg.

Council and housing association tenants Are you up to date with Right to Buy?

RIGHT TO BUY is the scheme that helps eligible council and housing association tenants buy their home by offering a discount on the purchase price.

Since 2012 the discounts available have increased and the rates have recently risen again. The new top cash discounts are £77,000 in England, and £102,700 if you live in London. Each year the discount will increase at the rate of inflation.

In addition, eligible tenants can now get up to 70% off the cost of their house – the same maximum percentage discount as for flats.

Since the scheme was refreshed in April 2012 more than 22,500 people in England have become homeowners through the Right to Buy scheme. Could this be the right time for you – or somebody you know – to join them?

Home ownership is not the right choice for everyone and potential owners need to be sure they can afford it. However home ownership brings many benefits – a sense of pride, freedom to make changes and an investment for the future.

All additional purchases through the Right to Buy scheme go straight into building new affordable housing for hardworking people locally.

Who qualifies for the Right to Buy?

Tenants are likely to be eligible to buy their current home if they can answer 'yes' to the following questions:

- Are you currently a council tenant, or were you living in your home when the council transferred it to another landlord (housing association)?
- Have you been a council or housing association tenant for 5 years or more?
- Can you confirm that you do not live in sheltered housing or other housing designed for elderly or disabled people?

In addition, tenants need to be free from legal problems with debt or outstanding possession orders, and their home isn't due to be demolished.

If you don't qualify at the moment, keep an eye on news about Right to Buy as the Government is hoping to make further changes to eligibility in 2015.

What to do next

To find out more about buying your home and whether you are eligible for a discount through Right to Buy, visit www.communities.gov.uk/therighttobuy.

There is an easy-to-use calculator to help you work out if you can afford to buy and lots of practical tips about the buying process.

If you decide to go ahead you will need to fill in the application form and take the process forward with your landlord.

Support from start to finish

The Government's new Right to Buy Agent service offers free and impartial advice on Right to Buy. If you decide that home ownership is the right choice for you, the advisers at the service will help you through the process from applying to completing. They can provide information on finding a mortgage, appointing a solicitor and arranging a survey.

If you are midway through buying and have a problem, get in touch with the Agent service and they can advise you.

The advisers are available from Monday to Friday, 8am until 6pm, on 0300 123 0913.

For more information: Website: www.communities.gov.uk/therighttobuy. Phone: 0300 123 0913. Email: enquiry@righttobuyagent.org.uk

IF YOU CAN ANSWER 'YES' TO THESE STATEMENTS...

I am a council tenant (or) I was a council tenant when my home was sold to my current landlord

I have been a tenant for at least 5 years

I don't live in sheltered housing or other housing particularly suitable for elderly or disabled people

...YOU COULD BE ELIGIBLE FOR A DISCOUNT OF UP TO £77,000

“ IT FEELS GREAT TO KNOW I’VE MADE AN INVESTMENT FOR THE FUTURE. ”

Flavia, London

With Right to Buy, you could now get a bigger discount towards buying the home you live in.

Have you been a council tenant for at least 5 years? If so, you could be eligible for a discount of up to £77,000, or £102,700 if you live in London. So is now the right time to think about buying your home?

Olly pulls a few strings

A PUPIL at a Rayleigh school has strummed his way into the regional final of the Open Mic UK competition.

Olly Davis, 14, who has played the guitar for around four years and also sings was involved in FitzWimarc School's Philharmonia Project and the Music Young Leaders Programme said his ambition is to be a recording artist who inspires young people to pick up a guitar.

He said: "I play both electric and acoustic guitar and really enjoy being able to express myself in my music.

"I am excited about the final, but also a bit nervous because the judges will be from the music industry, radio stations and record labels," Olly added.

The regional final is on Sunday, November 2, at 12pm, at Marconi Social Club, Great Baddow.

Tickets are £8 each and all ticket holders have a vote.

Contact FitzWimarc School office on 01268 743884 for ticket availability.

Windows and Doors

Advertisement Feature

A NEW shopping experience is being offered to homeowners by Atlas Windows and Doors, thanks to the opening of their new showroom site.

The sprawling site, in Russell Gardens, Wickford, is so vast that the company now boasts an inside showroom as well as an outside show area where you can see an extensive range of ways to improve your home.

Step inside and see a range of Composite and Palladio doors, as well as Bifold doors in a choice of aluminium or UPVC, triple track patio doors, and a wide range of window choices that will suit a variety of different homes.

Step outside and see how Atlas can help you with even more home improvement solutions from stylish conservatories and orangeries, to car ports and roofing options.

There's a choice of Livin Room, lean-to and solid roof conservatories for you to choose from, all of which can provide you with that much needed extra space, as well as Atlas and Ultraframe roofs.

The move to the site, from another further along the road, is another milestone for Atlas Windows and Doors. The company, which is part of the Fortress group of companies, has gone from strength to strength since it was founded by chairman Stuart Campbell in 1989. Having started as a UPVC and aluminium trade supplier, the company moved into the retail market in 2012 and now, just two years later, they are proud to have such a large new showroom and outdoor display area.

Call in now to see what they have to offer or join them for their Grand Opening event on Saturday, September 27th. The day will include a visit from the Heart Angels from Heart FM, as well as the opportunity to enjoy a 'one day only' chance to buy a new front door, including fitting, for only £595 including VAT from their One of A Kind range (surcharge applies for oak and rosewood).

What's more, if you call in for a quotation between now and the end of October you will be entered into a free raffle to win a Flood Defence Door which can keep out water 200 times better than a normal door.

For further information about Atlas Windows and Doors call their new showroom on 01268 578118 or visit www.atlashome.co.uk

ARTISTIC: Mia Cotton, Daniella Marchant and Emily Bull, Year 13 students from King Edmund School, Rochford

Pupils drawn to launch of art trail

SCHOOLCHILDREN helped to launch this year's art trail, which runs until Saturday, at a series of workshops to introduce them to painting, embroidery, glass decoration and silversmithing.

Pupils left the event at Rochford library with their own creations as mementos.

Trudy Spillane, from Holt Farm Junior School, said: "We were delighted to bring youngsters to meet local artists."

"We talk about art in school, but it's nice for pupils to meet the artists and have a chance for some hands-on activities."

Sixth-formers from King Edmund School, Rochford, displayed their work in the library foyer, and student Mia Cotton said: "The art trail provides a brilliant opportunity for aspiring artists to practise taking part in an exhibition."

After the launch visitors joined a guided walk of the trail. Artists with work on show will take walks every day, meeting at the water pump in Rochford Square, West Street, at 11am. For more details visit www.rochford.gov.uk/arttrail and follow @rochford_arts on Twitter.

HISTORY: The Old House

Old House tour

THE ART trail features tours of the district's historic Old House, which is not a museum but part of Rochford Council offices.

The 13th century timber-framed house, noted for its ghost stories, was restored by the authority in the 1980s. It dates from when the great, great-grandson of William the Conqueror, Henry III, was King of England. It is open for public tours from 10am to 4pm until Saturday.

Sweet soul music keeps fans happy

Backstage at the Towngate Theatre, crew members are tired. They have been setting up equipment since noon.

Martha Reeves and her band were supposed to begin their 10-minute soundcheck at 4pm, allowing a few hours' break before showtime.

Instead, they started at 5pm and have already been going for almost an hour.

An exacting bandleader, Martha is insisting the company runs through the entire setlist, interrupting regularly to point out mistakes.

Her attention to detail is laser-sharp.

Basildon is only the third of 18 UK concerts she will play this month.

Several of her musicians are new and her trumpet player only arrived this morning – hence the full rehearsal.

The horn player – a young man with voluminous dreadlocks – quickly emerged as her pet project for the afternoon.

Various, she claims his playing is not melodic enough, too squeaky or, most often, too loud.

Rehearsal is long but the musicians are in good spirits. Martha isn't some crazed diva; just a tireless professional, passionate about delivering the best possible show.

For every mistake, there's another moment that makes her grin, squeal and sing the band's praises. After two full hours, minutes before doors open, she says: "Boy, with this much rehearsal, we are gonna sound good tonight."

She meets me in the wings and asks: "Do you have my article?"

"Yes, I brought you a copy," I reply.

"Well then," she exclaims, "come with me to my dressing room."

Last month, I interviewed Martha and she insisted I deliver a copy on show night. It was only a short phone chat about the upcoming gig, but after locating her reading glasses she proudly reads it aloud, start to finish, in front of me and two other guests.

She fact-checks as she goes, like a teacher marking an essay, pausing periodically to inform us all that my quotes are accurate. Phew!

The theatre is packed. Martha appears in a figure-hugging white dress, clutching her signature tambourine, and launches straight into opening number, One Way Out.

At 73, she doesn't really sound like the twenty-something who recorded some of Motown's biggest hits – but only a wally would expect her to.

Her delivery on My Baby Loves Me calls to mind former label-mate Smokey Robinson.

But by far, her standout vocal performance is reserved for the self-penned, gutsy blues number, Watch Your Back.

At the intermission, audience members draw comparisons with Tina Turner – unsurprising, given the physicality of her performance.

One thing about Martha that shines through both on stage and in person is her devotion to her fans.

In the second-half she dusts off 1970s piano ballad No One There, following a fan's request to the theatre. During a break she lifts her water bottle and tells the crowd: "I want to make a toast to the good life. Thank you for giving us a good life."

It's a touching moment and the crowd shouts its own thanks. She closes with a crowd-pleasing rendition of Dancing In The Street, mashed up with hits by Stevie Wonder, James Brown and the Four Tops. After the show she is again swift to demonstrate her love for her fans, holding a meet-and-greet in the theatre foyer.

This is not your standard post-gig cash-grab. She isn't selling merchandise. She simply appears, swaddled in a purple dressing gown, sits in the foyer and signs anything her fans ask.

For those who didn't bring anything, she has free flyers and posters.

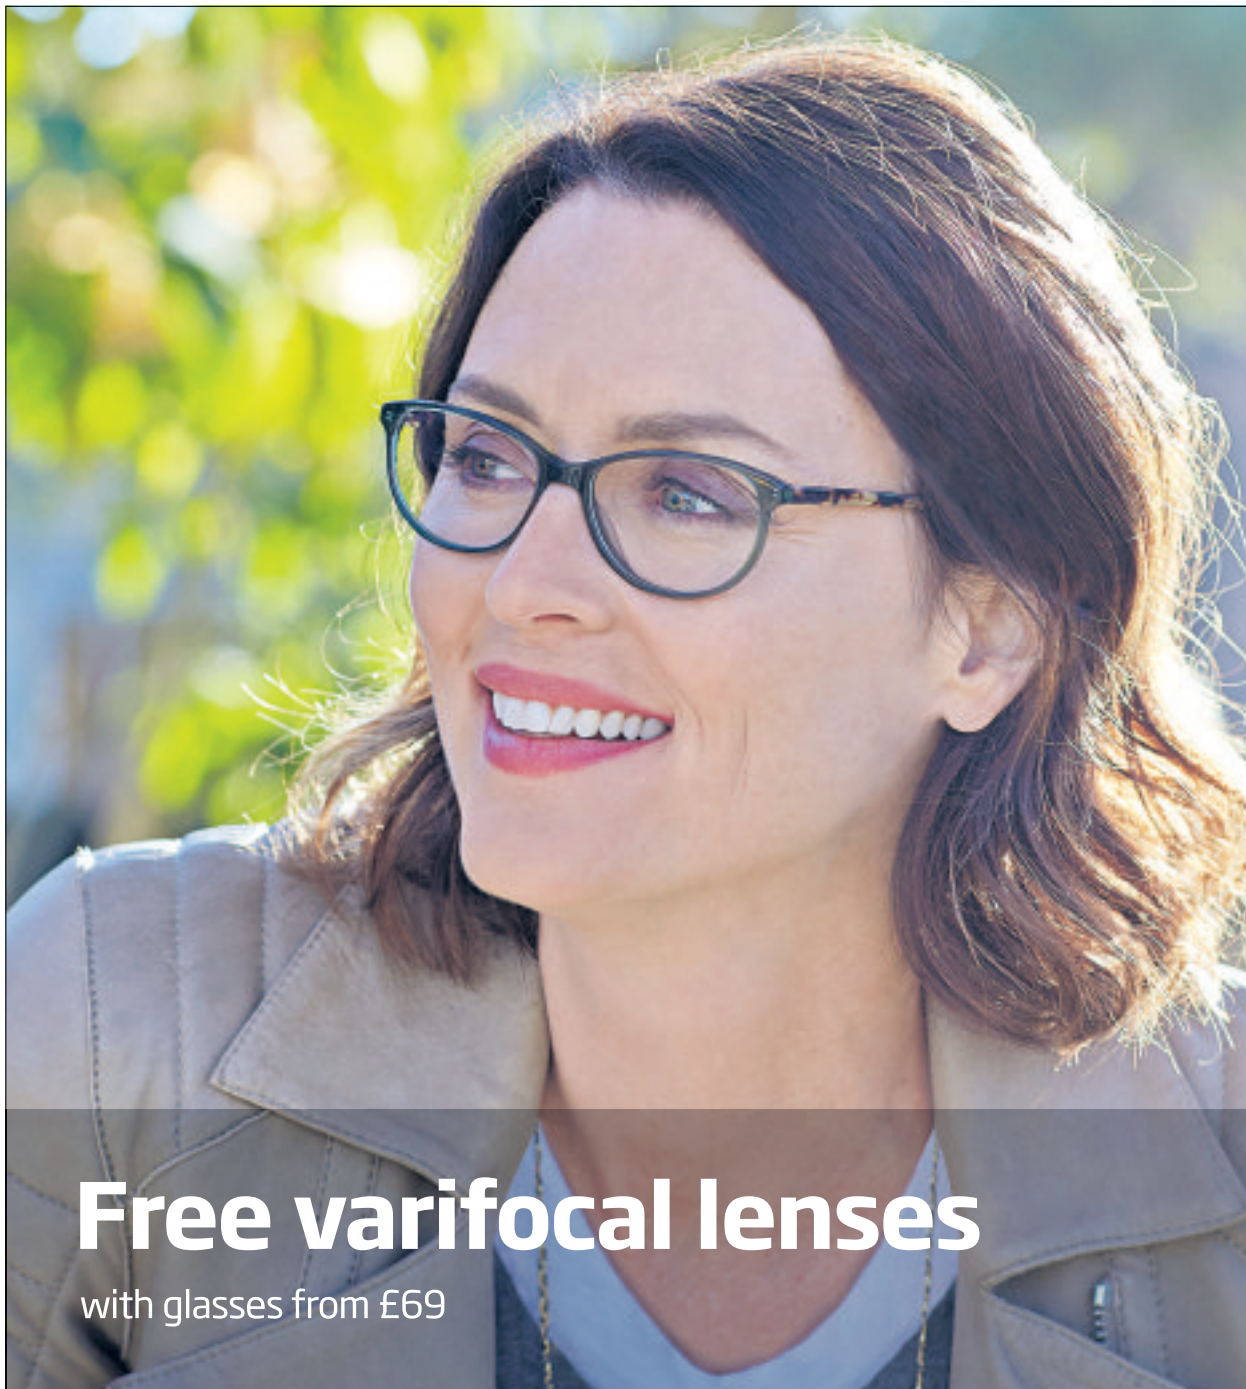

In between posing for photos, she sings snippets of fans' favourite tunes that didn't make the setlist.

Before retreating to her dressing room, she tells them: "Bring us back real soon, and we'll do all the ones we couldn't get in tonight."

Opinion and readers' letters

What now for United Kingdom?

DAVID Cameron's proposals for English MPs only to vote on English issues are a knee-jerk, self interested response to the West Lothian question.

It would lead to gridlock if a future government had a majority in Parliament but not in England. 'English' measures, introduced by that government, would be overturned by the opposition. England will be ungovernable.

America often experiences gridlock when the Democrats and Republicans control different arms of the government. That's something we don't need here.

These proposals would also mean cabinet ministers, and the prime minister, having to represent English seats.

Is that really progress? The current situation has a precedent. In the 1920s power was devolved to Northern Ireland, and the number of Ulster MPs was reduced from 30 to 12.

After Scottish devolution in 1999 the number of Scottish MPs was reduced from 72 to 59. Further reductions would be sensible now Scotland will be benefitting from 'devo max'.

Another option would be to create a genuinely federal Britain, and devolve maximum powers to Wales, Northern Ireland and all of the English regions. These proposals would take a long time to consider and prepare, hence Labour's plans to consult on the many alternatives.

The Tories will reject this approach because they want to concentrate power at the centre, not devolve it.

For centuries all MPs have been entitled to vote on all issues before parliament. That's what a UK Parliament is for.

Either of my suggestions would address the issues raised by the Scottish referendum. Let the discussions begin.

David Bodimeade
Rayleigh

The ongoing threat to our nation

IT has taken the Scottish working classes to emphasise just how unpatriotic the Government is.

The self-styled 'queen and country party' has, over the past 35 years, exhibited extreme treachery threatening to destroy a once great nation. National assets have been sold off on the cheap to enable tax cuts for the wealthy resulting in our having to pay the French to drink our water and light and heat our homes.

The proceeds of the sell off have been long spent and without a return to an appropriate system of taxation and a fairer distribution of the national product our indebtedness increases every month.

There is nothing wrong with socialism, capitalism and religion apart from those who control and abuse them.

It is too much to hope that the present government will see the needs of social concern, welfare and justice.

Les Harrington,
Benfleet

Public consultation on transport

THIS may be a crude attempt to attract thought to our developing town and yes it is written from a political group but it is not prescriptive but does reject the current view held by the Independent Portfolio Holder that there should be no further consultation with the public as to transport issues.

The town's population is growing and this alone means we should take a fresh look at what the transport offer is. The Transport and Bus Working Party does its best but it needs a re-profile to a higher level and certainly more than a working party which excludes the public.

The achievement already is to have a representative in to the place scrutiny to present and answer questions about the Abellio Greater Anglia rail service. I have no doubt we will learn of their frustrations as an operator as well as hear of some from a passengers point of view.

The cyclist needs a lobby group to feed back to council and on offer is LTC (Lobby to Cycle) but we would also welcome motor cyclists' input to this as well.

The complexity of the highway network and speed are also looked at.

The paper has already been called a lobby paper, but if it causes discussion and thought it would have done its job.

The political village will put its best trolls on the destruction path, but where are their ideas and suggestions?

Cllr Mark Flewitt JP
Member for St Laurence Ward (Conservative)

Three cheers for Gordon Brown

WE were heartened that Scotland finally (although narrowly) said 'No' to outright independence recently and relieved that this bombardment of political spin and rhetoric finally came to an end.

These last months of campaigning have clearly showed just how detested and mistrusted David Cameron and his Tory Government are in Scotland. Campaigners left no doubt that they are hated, and I believe similar feelings run pretty high in the rest of the UK.

David Cameron has Gordon Brown to thank for coming to the rescue with such an impassioned plea in a language that obviously resonated with the majority of Scottish voters and, I believe, voters all over the country.

Three cheers for Gordon! Now all Cameron has to do is keep his promise to have everything sorted out by January! (dream on)....

I have always had a soft spot for the Scots since my mother's stories of how they were pushed up onto the front line in the last war. Her brother, (who died in France during the last weeks of the war), described them as 'cannon fodder' and, as a child, it affected me deeply. I am proud to say I have several Scottish friends and I say good on them however they voted.

It was however a bit sad to see the amount of Scottish folk who voted to break away, but quite understandable. I think Alex Salmond did a good job and has not altogether lost - far from it, in fact. He has opened the political debate like never before and certainly kicked a few complacent politicians and toffee-nosed Tories into touch.

Mr Salmond should be proud of what he has achieved, certainly in contrast with David Cameron who, despite the outcome, will inevitably go down in history as the Prime Minister who nearly lost us the United Kingdom.

JANE CRUISES INTO TOWN ON SONG TOUR

by LIZ WADE

GET ready for an emotionally charged evening of not only music and laughter, but tears as well, as Jane McDonald takes to the stage in Southend on Friday.

Jane, one of the nation's favourite entertainers, is back on the road with The Singer of Your Song Tour, a brand new show featuring some of her best loved songs and hits from her incredible career.

As well as featuring some of her own compositions and amazing medleys, the new show treats fans to a selection of songs from her new album, The Singer of Your Song.

Speaking to her last Monday, on the day the deluxe edition of her album was released, Jane was overwhelmed with the response of her new tour, as well as the continued support of her legion of fans.

Admitting her time was a "little bit like running around like a headless chicken at the moment" and saying that "people don't get to see what goes on behind the scenes", Jane quickly went on to say, besides all that, she continues to be astounded that she is still in the limelight.

Jane said: "'I really didn't think I'd be here now. Most reality stars last three to four years and it's over."

"Hang on, what's happening here! It's a bit of disbelief really. I'm in shock a bit."

Jane shot to fame after her appearance on the BBC docusoap, The Cruise, in the 1990s and then signed a recording contract. What followed - including countless tours and television appearances, several albums and an autobiography - is, as they say, history.

Talking about her latest tour Jane says: "I've been doing this for 16 years but the show has never seen a reaction from an audience like this before. 'Something has changed. I wish I knew what it was and I'd bottle it and sell it.'"

Since her tour began in Weston Super Mare on September 5, Jane, together with her fantastic musicians and backing singers, have been bringing audiences to their feet night after night in an ultimate feel-good show.

Talking about the show, which will be at the Cliffs Pavilion, Southend, on Friday, September 26, Jane added: "It has got a lot of intimate moments in the show. I don't know what it's about with my lyrics but they get to the audience. I have seen big burly men sat with their wives sobbing, they come out feeling like they've come out of therapy."

"For the first time I'm wrung out and spent by the time I've finished the show."

As well as old favourites, fans are treated to several songs from her new album, which she says has "been a long time coming" as it's her first studio recording for six years.

"I do a duet, The Rose, with my best friend, Suzanne Ravey, who used to be my backing singer for 13 years," says Jane. "She comes out in her own right as a star now."

Another song which the album is named after - The Singer of Your Song - Jane wrote for her fans. "It's about being an artist and travelling to see them," adds Jane. "They come night after night."

"I see the same faces night after night. That's loyalty."

There are people who have become great friends, it's lovely to see that happen.

David Tennant, Rosamund Pike, Amelia Bullmore and Billy Connolly in What We Did On Our Holiday

Winning recipe

WHAT WE DID ON OUR HOLIDAY
(12A, 95 mins)

IN 2007, Andy Hamilton and Guy Jenkin abandoned the conventions of a tightly scripted sitcom and took a more fluid approach to mining laughs in the breakout hit Outnumbered.

While the adult characters' lines were committed to the page, the young actors were allowed to improvise around suggestions from Hamilton and Jenkin, and consequently delivered natural performances, reacting instinctively to set-ups and punchlines.

The writer-directors adopt the same winning recipe for this uproarious feature film debut, an ill-fated family road trip laced with absurdity that touches the heart and tickles the funny bone.

Once again, it's the younger cast who scene-steal with aplomb, explaining why a bout of car sickness is a source of joy ("It's like being a fountain!") and succinctly distilling the anguish and betrayal of parental infidelity into a single throw-away line: "Dad had an affair with a Paralympic athlete with one foot."

That's not to say that Hamilton and Jenkin short-change the rest of the ensemble cast including David Tennant, Rosamund Pike and Glaswegian firebrand Billy Connolly.

They snaffle a generous smattering of belly laughs too, like when Connolly's cantankerous grandfather tries to explain Hitler's seizure of land in terms a bairn might understand: "Like Monopoly, but with more screaming."

Gordie McLeod (Connolly) is poised to celebrate his 75th birthday in the Scottish Highlands.

His self-obsessed son Gavin (Ben Miller) is hosting the lavish party to impress the neighbours and hopefully secure the captaincy of the local golf club.

Gavin's long-suffering and neurotic wife Margaret (Amelia Bullmore) remains in the background, occasionally exploding with pent-up rage.

As the party beckons, Gavin's less successful brother Doug (David Tennant) and his wife Abi (Rosamund Pike) arrive with their three children in tow: 11-year-old Lottie (Emilia Jones), who scribbles repeatedly in her notebook so she can remember which lies she is supposed to tell; six-year-old Mickey (Bobby Smalldridge), who is obsessed with Vikings; and five-year-old Jess (Harriet Turnbull), whose best friends are two rocks christened Eric and Norman.

The birthday celebrations are unexpectedly thrown into disarray and a media scrum descends on the family's doorsteps along with an interfering Social Services officer called Agnes (Celia Imrie), who casts doubt on Doug and Abi's ability to nurture their dysfunctional brood.

What We Did On Our Holiday is a rip-roaring riot, laying bare the petty jealousies and deep-rooted fears within a family while dealing with serious issues through the unblinkered eyes of the three children.

Tennant and Miller spark a fiery sibling rivalry with excellent support from Pike and Bullmore, the latter proving that it's the quiet ones you have to watch out for.

Hamilton and Jenkin eschew cloying sentimentality in the film's tricky final third, striking a pleasing and ultimately winning balance between musing and amusing.

Jane McDonald sails in for Cliffs crowd

"There are lots of lonely people out there. The album is a friend to them, a bit like a warm blanket."

Jane left ITV's Loose Women, a show she has been a big part of for the past 10 years, earlier this year to concentrate on her music once again, something that has been a huge part of her life since childhood.

"I was painfully shy, I mean painfully shy," says Jane. "I was very musical and my mother and grandmother got me a piano, one they were getting rid of from a pub. It still had the glass rim marks on it."

Then finding herself singing along to the hits, Jane says she went on to take up singing lessons, but was really plagued with nerves, admitting "It took a long time to stop being sick before going on stage".

Jane added: "I'm a singer and that's what I do. I got so wrapped up in the television. That's not good for someone who wants to write music. It was a huge decision for me to leave a great show like Loose Women and I wondered if this is suicide."

"Talking about appearing at the Cliffs, sometimes you've got to throw yourself off a cliff."

Taking that leap seems to be the right move for Jane as she is already taking bookings for 2016, has plans to write another album over the next two years and has her heart set on musical theatre.

Jane says: "It's not just something I do, it's my life to be a singer and performer. You need that fix - to see my fans."

"Not it's time for musical theatre. I'm appearing in my first pantomime at the Birmingham Hippodrome this year. Paul O'Grady always used to phone me asking why I haven't been in panto yet."

But before then she is looking forward to appearing at the Cliffs on Friday. "I've had such great nights in Southend but have to keep raising the bar. It's a completely different show," says Jane.

She added: "I realise how grateful I am to still be here doing a job I love. I don't know if it's my age now but I appreciate it more. I'm married and committed to my job."

"I have been so lucky in my career so far. If you're that lucky keep going."

*Jane's The Singer of Your Song tour will be at the Cliffs Pavilion this Friday, September 26. For further information and tickets call the Box Office on 01702 351135 or visit www.southendtheatres.org.uk

Live acts at Big Saturday Night Out

FINALISTS of Britain's Got Talent and the X-Factor are providing the entertainment on Southend's seafront this autumn.

Last year's X-Factor contestants, Rough Copy and Nicholas McDonald, may have already drawn in the crowds at Adventure Island, but don't worry if you missed out on all the fun as there are still six evenings of Big Saturday Night Out entertainment to enjoy up until November 1.

The theme park is getting into true X-Factor spirit, as this year's contestants battle it out for the crown, by bringing several former finalists from the show to Southend including Rylan Clark, who not only made the finals of the show in 2012 but also went on to win Celebrity Big Brother.

Another Essex boy who will be taking to the stage next to the world's longest pleasure pier will be Sam Callahan, who made it to the finals last year, and other former X-Factor contestants also include Lucy Spraggan and Kingsland Road.

But the vocals of the those from the ITV show are not the only talent on offer as those you probably remember from Britain's Got Talent will also be at Adventure Island over the coming weeks including young singer and songwriter Bailey McConnell and acoustic group, Loveable Rogues.

While you need an Adventure Island wristband to enter the main performance area you can still see the performance from other areas in the free admission theme park, but if you do want to get up close then you can pick up half price bands after 6pm.

The main performance area is open from 6.30pm each Big Saturday Night, on a first-come-first-served bases, with entertainment starting at 7.15pm and the headliner due on stage at 8pm.

Up-and-coming evenings include Rylan Clark on September 27; Sam Callahan on October 4; Bailey McConnell on October 11; Lucy Spraggan on October 18; Loveable Rogues on October 25 and Kingsland Road on November 1.

Adventure Island Managing Director Marc Miller says "Our X-citing autumn at Adventure Island

ADVENTURE ISLAND: theme park is getting into true X-Factor spirit is all part of the Big Saturday Night Out, which we do every year and is designed to encourage families to come down and stay later in the autumn by showing them the fantastic things Southend seafront has to offer for people of all ages."

If that wasn't enough then make sure you pencil the park's Fright Fantastic event in your diaries to keep the kids amused. Its eight-day horror fest will be taking place during the October half term offering some ghoulish fun for all the family.

The event, which runs from Saturday, October 25, to Saturday, November 1, offers scares galore with a trick or treat door and horror hunts, and don't forget to take your chances on two spooky rides – Over the Hill – and Black Scream Theatre of Wax walk through experience. The theatre will be back with The Revenge of the Return of the Curse of the Black Scream so prepare to enter if you dare.

Spice has the variety of life

Advertisement feature

IT may only be eight months since Spice Lounge opened its doors on Canvey Island, but it has already made an impact of local diners.

The restaurant, situated on Canvey seafront, first welcomed diners in January and since then everyone from couples and families to large parties celebrating special occasions have been taking their seats.

This is due to its outstanding a la carte menu of contemporary cuisine, its welcoming and helpful staff and its beautiful décor.

Spice Lounge is justly proud of the specially selected Indian and Bangladeshi cuisine on its menu including a vast range of starters such as duck or green chicken tikka, and tandoori lamb chops or king prawns. Its selection of main courses is packed with a variety of traditional dishes such as Masala, Korai, Jalfrezi, Balti, Korma, Curry, Bhuna, Dupiaza, Rogon Josh, Sag, Dansak, Pathia, Madras, Vindaloo and Biryani delights.

What's more, there are a range of Chefs Specialities including Dum Gost, Chicken Irangani, Gosht Kata Masala, Duck Jalsha, and Duck Shuganda, and Seafood Specialities such as Chingri Sag Paneer, Bengal King Prawn, Crab Bhuna and Salmon Kurma.

If you are looking to try a range of dishes, or feed the family for outstanding value-for-money, then try its Sunday Buffet. The buffet, served every Sunday from noon to 10pm, costs just £9.95 for adults and £6.95 for children, while the under fives eat for free. With its wide range of dishes, such as Chicken Tikka and Vegetable Samosa for starters, Chicken Pasanda, North Indian Garlic Chill Chicken and Lamb Korai for mains, and sides such as Bombay Aloo and Sag Paneer, as well as rice, bread, salad and chutneys, so you have a feast for the whole family.

As well as offering wide choice, with buffet dishes changing regularly, it also offers fantastic value thanks to its 'buy two get one free' deal for Yellow Advertiser readers.

The restaurant welcomes bookings as well as walk-in diners, and can cater for a range of special occasions from birthdays and anniversaries to Christmas celebrations.

It also boasts a takeaway service which offers free home delivery on orders of more than £10 within a five mile radius, or a 10 per cent discount on collection orders of more than £15.

Spice Lounge is open every day, including Bank Holidays, from noon to 2.30pm and from 5.30pm to midnight, from Monday to Saturday, and all day from noon to midnight on Sundays.

Lexus gets a grip on traction

By Mike Torpey

THE new NX 300h crossover from Lexus will come equipped with an intelligent electric all-wheel drive system that provides extra grip when the driver needs it.

It's a light, compact system that avoids the weight, packaging, emissions and fuel consumption penalties associated with larger, mechanical AWD systems.

Called E-Four, the set-up uses an additional electric motor to drive the rear axle, providing more grip and better vehicle control on slippery surfaces.

The front axle is propelled by power from the hybrid petrol engine or electric motor, or both in combination.

E-Four varies the amount of drive torque to the rear wheels in line with driving dynamics and road conditions, to secure the right level of stability when pulling away or accelerating in low-grip conditions.

It also saves energy and fuel as all-wheel drive is only engaged when needed and is fitted as standard on all UK versions of the new NX 300h, apart from the entry-level S model which has front-wheel drive only.

Prices range from £29,495 to £42,995 and all versions will be equipped with a pre-crash safety system and adaptive cruise control.

Buyers will also get daytime running lights, a rear-view camera and front and rear fog lamps as well as technology like emergency brake signal, traction control, ABS and hill start assist.

THE FORD SUPERSALE IS BACK!

This weekend the famous Ford Supersale returns to the Brentwood Holiday Inn. This massive sale event is probably the largest used car sale in Essex and is totally unique.

For one weekend only, highly respected local Ford Dealer Group Allen Ford fill the grounds of the Brentwood Holiday Inn with over 300 used and nearly new Fords, plus a selection of other makes. Car buyers are spoilt for choice and prices are extremely competitive.

The whole event is held outdoors which creates a very relaxed atmosphere which customers enjoy. This is reflected in the fact that last year more than 1000 people attended the event and over 200 used cars were sold.

Customers can bring their part exchange vehicles with them and they will be given a generous valuation on the day. If a customer wants finance the Allen Ford team can arrange that as well.

As always, this event will be very busy. If you would like to pre-book an appointment at a time convenient to you, this can be done by phoning your local Allen Ford dealership.

Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

BLUES CLIMB TABLE AFTER ANOTHER WIN

Southend United

York City 2 Southend United 3
Sky Bet League Two
By Rowland Lyons
at Bootham Crescent

SOUTHEND climbed into fourth spot after picking up maximum points at struggling York on Saturday.

Myles Weston, Kevan Hurst and Jack Payne were on target as the Blues won their third game in a row. Strikes from City's Russell Penn and Dave Winfield were academic as United were worthy winners.

Fresh from their super midweek Cheltenham away win, boss Phil Brown, made one change with matchwinner, Conor Clifford, continuing in midfield in place of the injured Ryan Leonard.

Despite a shaky start with the visitors penned back, Payne's enterprise paid off winning a penalty after twice being baulked in front of goal. Referee, Paul Tierney, pointed to the spot and Weston duly obliged to give the Shrimpers a 10th minute lead.

Southend coped well with City's reply and Jake Hyde came closest, forcing Daniel Bentley into a couple of smart saves.

But, with better finishing, the game should have been won well before the interval with Clifford, Shaquille Coulthirst and Payne all wasting good chances.

Soon after Skipper, John White, had sustained a nasty head injury, Southend suffered a knockout punch in first-half stoppage time when they failed to clear Luke Summerfield's characteristically driven corner and the Minstermen levelled from Penn's spectacular diving header.

Southend - however - didn't let their heads drop and came out battling after the break. Weston and Coulthirst both went close, before - on 52 minutes - Hurst was allowed to pick his spot to fire home after Michael Ingham had spilled Weston's cross under pressure from the busy Payne.

A minute later - and with City reeling - Ingham at least made amends, with a fine save, to deny the overlapping Jerome Binnom-Williams after Coulthirst skilfully created the opening.

Payne - with his fourth strike of the new season - effectively wrapped up the points with a 78th minute strike after sub, David Worral and Weston combined from Payne's superb give and go just inside York territory.

A late City rally saw Winfield pull a goal back, but the Blues held out to leave Brown admitting: 'The win was only hard-earned by the way we did it at the end. York didn't cause us many problems. We caused ourselves problems in the latter stages of the second-half - as well as conceding a needless corner for their first goal'.

Brown added: "We're a young side and players grow up and learn their trade winning at places like Cheltenham, in midweek, and York today. I like to see players fighting for the ball and to have belief in their ability.

"After Jack Payne's goal I didn't feel we were home and hosed as they got their goal and felt at the end of the game, they were bigger than us and got sucked into York's way of playing - and for me that's not the right way of playing."

SCORER: Kevan Hurst

Brown concluded: "Nine points in a week is a great return and it can be the defining point in your season. That can only be the case if we take the points against Shrewsbury at Roots Hall [this Saturday]."

Minstermen boss, Nigel Worthington added: "We passed the ball a lot better than the other night, but individual mistakes cost us. We've got to do much better."

Goalscorer, Hurst said: "It has been a massive week. I can't praise the boys enough for getting nine points out of nine. We have won away twice at two difficult-to-beat clubs - and it's a great feat and confidence booster."

York City: Michael Ingham, Marvin McCoy, Keith Lowe, Dave Winfield, Ferni Ilesanmi, Michael Coulson, Luke Summerfield (Tom Platt 64) Russell Penn (captain), Lindon Meikle (Anthony Straker 64), Wes Fletcher, Jake Hyde (Ryan Jarvis 79).

Southend United: Daniel Bentley, John White (captain), Adam Thompson, Luke Prosser, Jerome Binnom-Williams, Kevan Hurst, Conor Clifford (Will Atkinson 75), Gary Deegan, Jack Payne (Mats Ibenfeldt 86), Myles Weston, Shaquille Coulthirst (David Worrall 66).

Non-league round-up

Clarets' five goal thriller

by Brian Jeeves

STRUGGLING Chelmsford City put their recent Vanarama Conference South problems behind them to record their first home league win of the season with an exciting 3-2 success over Weston-Super-Mare at Melbourne Stadium. A brace from Michael Cheek plus one from former Southend United man Nicky Nicolau gave the Clarets an unassailable three goal lead. However, Weston replied with late goals from Tom Jordan and Corey Williams to ensure a nervy finale. This win moves City into 17th place with 11 points from 9 games.

Meanwhile in the Vanarama Premier, Braintree Town went down by a single Stuart Fleetwood goal at big spending Eastleigh.

It was a bad day in the Ryman Premier League with all five of the regions clubs slipping to defeat. Despite goals from Glenn Poole and Richard Halle, Billericay Town went down by the odd goal in five against Wingate & Finchley at New Lodge, and there was a 4-2 loss for Canvey Island at Margate. Tambeson Eyong and Kevin Dobinson on target for the Gulls.

AFC Hornchurch's frustrating campaign continued as the Urchins went down 2-0 at Dulwich Hamlet while Grays Athletic succumb to a single goal at home to Bognor Regis Town.

East Thurrock United completed an unwanted nap-hand, losing 2-1 at Hampton & Richmond Borough.

But there was better news in the Ryman North, particularly for Great Wakering Rovers. Goals from Tom Strickland (2) and Lewis Sparrow earned the Rovers a 3-2 triumph at Barkingside. This was the villagers' second win of the season, lifting them off the bottom of the league. That place is now taken by Redbridge, who slipped to the foot of table despite a 2-2 draw at Tilbury. Brian Moses and Chinedu McKenzie found the net for 'Side, Sam West and Emiel Aiken replying for the Dockers.

Aveley won 3-1 at Romford. Spencer Harrison, Junior Baker and Aaron Gayle on target for the visitors, Tom Richardson replying for Romford. And Brentwood Town clinched the points, squeezing home 3-2 at Cheshunt.

Thurrock were the big winners of the day, hammering AFC Sudbury by six goals to two at the Wardale Williams Stadium. Ross Wall (2), Brad Warner (2), Charlie Stimson and Mark Onyemah were on target for Thurrock who move into third place.

But there were setbacks for Maldon & Tip-tree, who went down 3-2 at home to Chatham Town, and Burnham Ramblers, who crashed 4-1 to Heybridge Swifts at Leslie Field. A hat trick from Neil Richmond along with a Billy Hunt strike, enough to see the visitors home.

In the Essex Senior League there was a big derby at Southchurch Park Arena where Southend Manor slipped to a late Harry Skinner penalty against Hullbridge Sports. Elsewhere Clapton won 4-1 at Basildon United and Bowers & Pitsea saw off Waltham Forest 3-2. Barking won by the same score line against Enfield 1893, while London Bari and Ilford shared the spoils with a 2-2 draw.

Ashingdon Youth under 11's Blues of the Southend & District Junior League are on the lookout for players in all positions in particular a goalkeeper of Division C standard or above. They train in Rochford every Saturday between 9:30 and 10:30am. Contact Neil Irvine on 07525360939

Young Redbacks win end of season tournament

Baseball

Little Redbacks 6-5 London Mets U10
Little Redbacks 7-0 London Mets U10

THE Little Redbacks rounded off an incredibly successful season with two victories over the much-fancied London Mets at the traditional end-of-season Herts Futures Tournament in Hemel Hempstead at the weekend.

The Redbacks found themselves 5-0 down in the first inning of the first game, but recovered to win 6-5 in a dramatic match.

With only two outs left in the bottom of the final inning, Collin Preisler was the first to cross the plate in the late comeback, before some great batting and running saw the Redbacks add five more to complete the victory.

In the second game, the Redbacks were a little more convincing from the start. Preston Taylor and Lucas Thomas combined to prevent the Mets from scoring as their infield made a number of great plays.

They then brought patience and power to the batters' box, earning a number of walks and solid hits to grind out a strong win.

Manager Graham Meikle said: "This season has been excellent for the Little Redbacks.

"The youngsters have come to training every week and you can see the progress they're making as individuals and as a team.

"We talk about the future of the club a lot, but I really believe that as the young boys and girls move through the age groups, they'll rise to every challenge and take the Redbacks to a whole new level of success in the next decade."
